

Meet the kids running their own bank

29 January 2018 Last updated at 07:06 GMT

You might have heard people saying that money doesn't grow on trees.

But how about inventing your own currency, and then creating a bank to store it in?

Well, that's exactly what pupils at one school have done.

They're hoping to learn more about looking after their money by running it.

Martin's been spending some time finding out more about these cash-savvy kids...

View the video here